

☐ 35. [T] TIMELINES - RED

No one living from 1st avenue to 6th avenue, from Elderflower to Kettleworth street, could have reached the scene and returned before the church bells - all cleared.

☐ 36. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

Two sleepless churchwardens kept watch over everything from 75th avenue to 77th avenue, from Fernbank to Ramblerose street, and saw nothing but cats.

☐ 37. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The vicar's spaniel, who barks at everything, slept clean through his round from 25th avenue to 28th avenue, from Orchardend to Vicarage street - nobody stirred there.

☐ 38. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere from 63rd avenue to 68th avenue, from Fernbank to Jugmarsh street, so those homes are clear.

☐ 39. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The vicar's spaniel, who barks at everything, slept clean through his round from 56th avenue to 59th avenue, from Applectart to Gooseberry street - nobody stirred there.

☐ 40. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 40th avenue to 53rd avenue, from Eiderdown to Fernbank street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 41. [T] TIMELINES - RED

The bridge on that side was raised until midnight; nobody from 29th avenue to 33rd avenue, from Cobblenook to Fernbank street, could have crossed in time.

☐ 42. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The vicar's spaniel, who barks at everything, slept clean through his round from 75th avenue to 77th avenue, from Verbena to Cloverleigh street - nobody stirred there.

☐ 43. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

Two sleepless churchwardens kept watch over everything from 1st avenue to 3rd avenue, from Primrose to Thatchway street, and saw nothing but cats.

☐ 44. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The postman walked from 69th avenue to 73rd avenue, from Fernbank to Honeypot street, and swears every door he passed stayed shut.

☐ 45. [T] TIMELINES - RED

Count the minutes yourself: from anywhere from 1st avenue to 3rd avenue, from Applectart to Dovecote street, the walk is too long. Every one of them is cleared.

☐ 46. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home from 58th avenue to 60th avenue, from Gorsehill to Jugmarsh street.

☐ 58. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home from 30th avenue to 32nd avenue, from Gorsehill to Honeypot street.

☐ 59. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The postman walked from 60th avenue to 62nd avenue, from Applecart to Bramblejam street, and swears every door he passed stayed shut.

☐ 60. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The vicar's spaniel, who barks at everything, slept clean through his round from 60th avenue to 62nd avenue, from Foxglove to Gooseberry street - nobody stirred there.

☐ 61. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 25 Fernbank street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 30 Kissinggate street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 62. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 25 Gorsehill street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 29 Kissinggate street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 63. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 33 Vicarage street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 37 Cobblenook street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 64. [T] TIMELINES - RED

No one living from 34th avenue to 37th avenue, on Vicarage street, could have reached the scene and returned before the church bells - all cleared.

☐ 65. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The mud at the scene is river mud. The wells from 34th avenue to 37th avenue, on Kissinggate street, draw from chalk - clean boots, clean consciences.

☐ 66. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 54 Eiderdown street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 57 Honeypot street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 67. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 59 Eiderdown street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 62 Honeypot street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 68. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 57th avenue to 58th avenue, from Eiderdown to Fernbank street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 69. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 61st avenue to 62nd avenue, from Ivybridge to Jugmarsh street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 70. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

A watcher on 25th avenue swears no one from Wisteria to Buttercross street so much as opened a door all night.

☐ 71. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

A watcher on 25th avenue swears no one from Honeypot to Jugmarsh street so much as opened a door all night.

☐ 72. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

A watcher on 28th avenue swears no one from Duckpond to Fernbank street so much as opened a door all night.

☐ 73. [T] TIMELINES - RED

No one living from 30th avenue to 32nd avenue, on Buttercross street, could have reached the scene and returned before the church bells - all cleared.

☐ 74. [T] TIMELINES - RED

Count the minutes yourself: from anywhere at 34th avenue, from Duckpond to Fernbank street, the walk is too long. Every one of them is cleared.

☐ 75. [T] TIMELINES - RED

The bridge on that side was raised until midnight; nobody at 37th avenue, from Wisteria to Buttercross street, could have crossed in time.

☐ 76. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home at 37th avenue, from Honeypot to Jugmarsh street.

☐ 77. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 25 Cobblenook street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 27 Eiderdown street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 78. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 26 Yarrowdale street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 28 Cobblenook street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 79. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 27 Wisteria street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 29 Buttercross street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 35. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from shanty night at the Anchor clears every household from 59th avenue to 90th avenue, from Undertow to Vane street.

☐ 36. [T] TIMELINES - RED

No one living from 57th avenue to 73rd avenue, from Ropewalk to Scrimshaw street, could have reached the scene and returned before the chapel bells - all cleared.

☐ 37. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from the harbormaster's address clears every household from 60th avenue to 67th avenue, from Mackerel to Portside street.

☐ 38. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 50th avenue to 51st avenue, from Yardarm to Portside street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 39. [T] TIMELINES - RED

Count the minutes yourself: from anywhere from 56th avenue to 59th avenue, from Anchor to Isinglass street, the walk is too long. Every one of them is cleared.

☐ 40. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere from 45th avenue to 49th avenue, from Lobsterpot to Pilchard street, so those homes are clear.

☐ 41. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

Not one soul from 23rd avenue to 36th avenue, from Whalebone to Windlass street, missed the fleet blessing; the whole stretch alibis itself.

☐ 42. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from the oyster supper clears every household from 52nd avenue to 56th avenue, from Mackerel to Pilchard street.

☐ 43. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from the oyster supper clears every household from 74th avenue to 77th avenue, from Saltspray to Shantyman street.

☐ 44. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

Two sleepless net-menders kept watch over everything from 1st avenue to 8th avenue, from Anchor to Bowline street, and saw nothing but cats.

☐ 45. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

Two sleepless net-menders kept watch over everything from 54th avenue to 55th avenue, from Lantern to Spinnaker street, and saw nothing but cats.

☐ 46. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from the herring festival clears every household from 74th avenue to 77th avenue, from Mackerel to Netmender street.

☐ 47. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The mud at the scene is river mud. The wells from 30th avenue to 42nd avenue, on Tiller street, draw from chalk - clean boots, clean consciences.

☐ 48. [T] TIMELINES - RED

Count the minutes yourself: from anywhere from 60th avenue to 62nd avenue, from Foghorn to Isinglass street, the walk is too long. Every one of them is cleared.

☐ 49. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home from 59th avenue to 70th avenue, on Tiller street.

☐ 50. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home from 74th avenue to 84th avenue, on Spindrift street.

☐ 51. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 43rd avenue to 47th avenue, from Tiller to Undertow street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 52. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 54th avenue to 58th avenue, from Tiller to Undertow street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 53. [T] TIMELINES - RED

The bells of the seamen's chapel mark every quarter hour, and its 8 neighbors were all seen between chimes.

☐ 54. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

All 8 households beside the pump fountain were at its steps for the evening blessing, in full view of each other.

☐ 55. [T] TIMELINES - RED

Count the minutes yourself: from anywhere from 60th avenue to 67th avenue, on Lobsterpot street, the walk is too long. Every one of them is cleared.

☐ 56. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from the harbormaster's address clears every household from 43rd avenue to 49th avenue, on Vane street.

☐ 57. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from the oyster supper clears every household from 52nd avenue to 58th avenue, on Vane street.

☐ 58. [T] TIMELINES - RED

No one living from 52nd avenue to 58th avenue, on Lobsterpot street, could have reached the scene and returned before the chapel bells - all cleared.

☐ 71. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The wharf watchman walked from 52nd avenue to 53rd avenue, from Rigging to Spinnaker street, and swears every door he passed stayed shut.

☐ 72. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere at 44th avenue, from Lobsterpot to Musselbed street, so those homes are clear.

☐ 73. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The mud at the scene is river mud. The wells from 48th avenue to 49th avenue, from Portside to Ropewalk street, draw from chalk - clean boots, clean consciences.

☐ 74. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 43 Pilchard street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 46 Saltspray street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 75. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 48 Oyster street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 51 Rigging street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 76. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 48 Tiller street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 51 Wharf street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 77. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 50 Lantern street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 53 Oyster street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 78. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 48th avenue to 49th avenue, from Mizzen to Nautilus street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 79. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

Flour dusted every doorstep on Saltspray street from 49th avenue to 52nd avenue - the killer passed them all, so none of them is the killer.

☐ 80. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 58th avenue to 59th avenue, from Mackerel to Marlinspike street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 81. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

Not one soul from 6th avenue to 8th avenue, on Musselbed street, missed widow Petrel's card night; the whole stretch alibis itself.

☐ 78. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 57 Chalkstone street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 60 Deanery street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 79. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 40th avenue to 41st avenue, from Errata to Footnote street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 80. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 59th avenue to 60th avenue, from Blackletter to Bursar street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 81. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere from 4th avenue to 6th avenue, on Elegy street, so those homes are clear.

☐ 82. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 41 Epigraph street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 43 Footnote street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 83. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 58 Bursar street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 60 Cloisterwalk street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 84. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

Not one soul from 43rd avenue to 44th avenue, on Blackletter street, missed the dean's reception; the whole stretch alibis itself.

☐ 85. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The guest book from professor Vane's seminar clears every household from 50th avenue to 51st avenue, on Cloisterwalk street.

☐ 86. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

Every household from 57th avenue to 58th avenue, on Blackletter street, was crammed into the same pews, tents, or taprooms when it happened - all accounted for.

☐ 87. [A] ALIBIS - GREEN

The resident of No. 5 Lampblack street was in plain view of half the town all evening.

☐ 88. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour trail runs straight past No. 42 Footnote street - whoever lives there was walked past, not walking.

☐ 89. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour trail runs straight past No. 60 Chalkstone street - whoever lives there was walked past, not walking.

☐ 67. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

The lantern-lighter walked from 7th avenue to 8th avenue, from Cobweb to Duskfall street, and swears every door he passed stayed shut.

☐ 68. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

A watcher on 47th avenue swears no one from Veil to Allhallow street so much as opened a door all night.

☐ 69. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere from 55th avenue to 58th avenue, on Batwing street, so those homes are clear.

☐ 70. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 43 Ghostgate street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 46 Harvestmoon street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 71. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour spread wide here: every doorstep from 50th avenue to 51st avenue, from Veil to Wickwood street, was dusted - passed, and therefore innocent.

☐ 72. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere from 9th avenue to 11th avenue, on Shriekwillow street, so those homes are clear.

☐ 73. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

Two sleepless soothsayers kept watch over everything from 43rd avenue to 45th avenue, on Harvestmoon street, and saw nothing but cats.

☐ 74. [F] THE FLOUR TRAIL - YELLOW

The flour ran corner to corner: beginning at No. 56 Candlewax street, stepping one avenue east and one street south with every stride, and ending at No. 58 Dimwick street. Every home it grazed at the gatepost is cleared.

☐ 75. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home from 13th avenue to 14th avenue, on Shriekwillow street.

☐ 76. [W] WITNESSES - PURPLE

A watcher on 43rd avenue swears no one from Candlewax to Crowfeather street so much as opened a door all night.

☐ 77. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

Whoever did it waded a ditch; there is no ditch within reach of any home from 54th avenue to 55th avenue, on Hexley street.

☐ 78. [G] GEOGRAPHY - ORANGE

The red clay on the killer's boots is found nowhere from 57th avenue to 58th avenue, on Candlewax street, so those homes are clear.